Objective
The objective of this documen	t is to outline the potential risk	ks to the de	eployment and s	success of the Pl	lant Pals project	t, as they pertain	to the project's	budget and sch	edule.
Executive Summary
In our efforts to create sustain	able fulfillment and delivery pr	actices on	a day-to-day le	vel, with a focus	on best practic	es to ensure the	demands of the	e Plant Pal service	e are consistently met at a high leve	I, we have discovered several	potential r	isks to the proje	cts' success as	detailed below.
RISK SCENARIO: Going over	the project budget
Possible Causes			RISK LEVEL	Mitigation Pla	in
An increase of $16000 in purc	hase cost for each delivery tru	ick.	HIGH	Transfer: Inve	stigate the cost	 t of a truck rental	or leasing agre	ement with a thir	d party in orde	r to facilitate the	delivery of our	product.
Product vendors increase pric	ing above the expected rate.		MEDIUM	Reduce or co	ntrol: Diversify	our purchasing of	over several ver	dors, so that any	rate increase	at one supplier	will be defused	over several oth	ers - normalizing	the price.
Loss of product shipments.			LOW	Accept (active	e): Set aside fur	nds within the bu	dget to cover b	reakage.
RISK SCENARIO: Falling beh	ind the training schedule
Possible Causes			RISK LEVEL	Mitigation Pla	an
Interruption of staff training du	e to key personnel missing wo	ork.	LOW	Avoid: Implem	nent cross traini	ng so that multip	le people are a	ble to administer	the training pr	ogram.
Insufficiently trained staff, due	to low hiring numbers.		MEDIUM	Transfer: Enlis	st a recruiting fir	rm to ensure that	we are able to	hit our hiring targ	get with enoug	n time before la	unch to ensure a	adequate trainin	g time.
Poor employee retention rate of	due to rigorous training proces	ss.	MEDIUM	Reduce or co	ntrol: Inevitably	y any training pro	gram is going t	o put stress on p	eople; howeve	r, we can mitiga	te this effect on	our retention ra	te by offering success focus	sed coaching, m	nanaging the pac	e of the training	, and properly so	creening for ca	ndidates with a	high likelihood o	of success durin	g the hiring proce	ess.
